

A just weight and balance are the LORD'S:

Thus saith the Lord...

- As we begin our study in Acts 12 we discover there is a king stretching forth his hands to vex certain of the Church.
- His first act of aggression was directed against an apostle.
- "He killed James the brother of John with the sword."
(Acts 12:2)

- Such is the short record of the first and only apostle to die a martyrs death of which we have any record in Scripture.
- Far more was told of the martyrdom of the Stephen in Acts 7.
- One thing is dwelt upon and another briefly told.

- The fate of the next destined victim is widely different.
- He too seems to be marked out for martyrdom.
- The appetite for blood is ever whetted by its indulgence.

- It was Passover time in Jerusalem.
- Strangers from all parts of the world have come for this festival;
- And the spectacle of an apostle's execution was to be their pastime.

- How strangely our prayers are sometimes answered!
  - James and John had prayed that they might sit, the one on the right and the other on the left in the Lord's kingdom.
- And now the cup and the baptism came to James in the form of a terrible martyrdom.

- May we covet the best gift, not the most conspicuous position.
(1 Corinthians 12:31)
- May we keep in remembrance that they at the front fall first.
- But may we not shrink from the front if it be the will of the Lord to assign us that position.

- “Peter was kept in prison.”

(Acts 12:5)

- All work
suspended, and apparently all usefulness
at an end.
- Peter, the most active of them.

- What does the Lord mean?
- This question comes up so often.
  - To allow James to be killed and Peter to be imprisoned is not our way.

- Isaiah 55:8
For my thoughts are not your thoughts,
neither are your ways my ways,
saith the LORD.

- May we never be scared for the cause of Christ.
- Let us learn from Peter.
- That the Lord may not always keep me out of the hands of the enemy,
- But, He will keep the enemy from destroying me.

- David wrote
“I will fear no evil.”
(Psalms 23:4)
- The world is full of evil.
  - Don’t let the Devil make you afraid.
- The unseen forces of God are stronger than the visible agents of the “Roaring Lion”.

- Let us look at the deaths of James and Stephen.
- The death of one is told over two chapters,
- The death of the other is crammed into a few sentences.

- One an apostle.
- The other was a simple preacher of the Word.
- The Bible cares so little about names because its true theme is the work of God, and not of man.

- What is the reason years are leaped over in silence and moments are spread out in detail,
- But that the death of a man is only a death,
- But the death of the Christ is the life of the world.

- Another lesson which may be learned is, how small a thing death really is!
  - We need to revise our notions if we would understand how trivial death really is for the Christian.

- Psalms 116:15

Precious

in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints.

- Do we believe it?

- Why should James be slain,
and
Peter miraculously delivered?
  - A question easily asked;
  - A question not to be answered by us.

- We may be sure of this,
that James was as dear to Christ as Peter was,
  - And that there was no greater love shown in sending the angel that delivered the one
- But failed to deliver the other.

- Did I say “failed”?
- Our Lord never fails!
- James escaped from Herod just as Peter did.
  - His deliverance just as sweet.
  - “Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints.
(Psalms 116:15)

- But let us remember, that the two though equally beloved,
were dealt
two different fates,
- It must be that death
is not bitter to the believer.
  - But sweet!

- There is no evil in God's ways.
- May this lesson teach us of the equal love that presides over the life of the living and the death of the dying.

- Mark 12:24

And Jesus answering said unto them, you therefore err, because

- you know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?...
- 12:26 And as touching the dead...,
have you not read in the book of Moses,
how in the bush God
spake unto him, saying,
I am the God of Abraham,
and the God of Isaac,
and the God of Jacob?
  - In the eye of God
there are NO dead!

- James,
a son of thunder.
(Mark 3:17)
- So energetic,
- So boisterous.
- “Grant that we may sit,
the one on Thy right hand and the other on Thy left,
in Thy kingdom.”
(Mark 10:37)

- That was what he wished for.
- So, be careful for what you wish!
- He got some years of service,
- And a taste of persecution,
  - And finally the swish of the sword.
  - Yes! Our dreams do get disappointed,
  - And their disappointment is often the road to their fulfillment.

- For Jesus Christ was answering the prayer,
- “Grant that we may sit on Thy right hand in Thy kingdom,”
- So let us leave that question of living or dying to Him who is the Almighty.

- Only let us be sure that whether our lives be long like John's, or

- short like James's,

- “Living or dying we are the Lord's.”

(Romans 14:8)

- Herod, the king, had much in common with Pilate.
- Mild in his natural temper, but fond of popularity.
  - The persecution was but to please the Jews, as was the case with Pilate.

- The Church had learned to walk by faith, and even the fall of an apostle will not crush them now.
- In the case of James, the Lord shows that He will not always interfere to protect His servants.

- This first apostolic martyrdom marks a law of the kingdom, and illustrates the Master's word, "My kingdom is not of this world."
(John 18:36)

- Not an inch of territory will Christ maintain for Himself by the sword.

- Observing that no Divine power was put forth, either to protect James or to avenge him, and finding that one murder procured him favor, Herod determined to perpetrate another murder.

- “Peter was kept in prison, but prayer was made,”
(Acts 12:5)

- Man proposes,
- God disposes.

- James was suddenly seized and murdered.
- But there was time to pray for Peter.
  - God opened the door of opportunity through Herod's desire to keep all quiet till after the Passover;
- The Church eagerly entered that door by way of prayer.

- Peter meanwhile was sleeping, and his sleep brought as much glory to God as his wakefulness,
  - He slept in Gethsemane through weakness of the flesh:
    - He sleeps here through the strength of his faith.
  - How sweet to lie down and if the Lord will, to awake in heaven.

- A child's prayer.
- A saints wish.
- Now, I lay me down to sleep.
- If I should die
before I wake.
- I pray the Lord,
My soul to take.

- We have observed the dark side of the picture.
- Now, let us observe the bright side of the picture.

- "But there was fervent prayer going on by the Church unto God concerning him."
(Acts 12:5)

- Is there not great meaning in that little word "but"?

- The Church below was calling in a helper.

- Little was Herod aware that unseen forces were mustering on the horizon.
  - He who neither slumbers nor sleeps has gathered His forces.
- And let no man presume to say, what one day or one night may bring forth!

- Peter sleeps,
while the Church prays:
- It is their time for action,
- It is his time for peace of mind.
- "In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength".
(Isaiah 30:15)
- "Cast all your care upon Him, for He careth for you."
(1 Peter 5:7)

- "And, behold
an angel of the Lord stood near,"
(Acts 12:7)

- God does nothing in vain:

- He begins where man must end,

- And ends where man can only begin.

- Herod thought he was king;
in reality he was a slave.
- Sometimes the judge
is the prisoner.
  - Sometimes the conqueror is the loser.
  - What is about to unfold?

- Herod's political motto is found in "It pleased the Jews."
  - He thought he had made a hit when he slew John's brother.
  - But even in that crime he only helped to fulfill a prophecy of Christ (Mark 10:39).

- Mark 10:38

But Jesus said unto them, (James & John)

- You know not what you ask:
  - can ye drink of the cup that I drink of?
- and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

- And they said unto him,
We can.
- And Jesus said unto them,
  - You shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of;
  - and with the baptism that I am baptized with shall you be baptized:

- The all-wise God permits sin to move on for a while,
- But He may be trusted to interpose when the time for restraining wrath arrives.
- for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.
(Hebrews 13:5).

- David penned these words:
“He prepares a table before me, in the presence of my enemies.”

- Peter must have understood that he was now

- in the grip of a mad man.

- He could not expect to fare any better

- than did James.

- But he was not in the least troubled.

- This old fisherman meant to have as easy a night of it as was possible with the poor accommodations.
- He took off his outer garments and sandals before he lay down, as was his habit anywhere.
(Acts 12:8)

- Peter went quietly into a sweet good sleep as usual.

- Psalms 34:7

The angel of the LORD
encampeth round about them that fear him,
and delivereth them.

- The angel had nothing to fear.
  - Peter could take all of time and care he needed without danger.
    - It was not necessary that he should dress in the dark;
- The messenger from heaven lit up the room for him,
  - And the apostle put on his shoes and garments before he started.

- The chains were removed so cautiously that they made no clanking.
- There was no hurry nor confusion;
- When God takes care of His servant,
- He takes good care.

- If you were to stand upon a cliff
on a stormy day
beneath lowering clouds and gaze upon the lightning bolt and think you might grasp one in your hand and cast it back into the heavens.

- Still more foolish and vain his thought, he who fancies that he can turn aside the purpose of God, saying,

- "What is the Almighty that we should serve Him?
(Job 21:15)

Psalms 2:2

The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,

2:3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away
their cords from us.

2:4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh:

- Zechariah 2:8

Whoever touches you touches the apple of his eye

- There is no organ

so delicate

as the apple of the eye.

- The smallest puncture there will give pain

over the whole body.

- And our Savior says that it would be better for a man who persecutes the saints of God "that a millstone had been hung around his neck, and he had been cast into the depths of the sea."
(Matthew 18:6)

- Blessed

are they who are

"persecuted for righteousness' sake,"

(Matthew 5:10)

- But woe be unto them
that persecute them.

- Acts 12:21

And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne...

- 12:22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.
- 12:23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

- How little the new testament makes of the martyrdom of even the best of men.
- Only two words in the Greek describe James's execution:
  - "killed — sword."
  - The Bible does not dwell upon the deaths of Christians so much as upon their lives.

- How vain are swords

to slay

- And

prison doors to confine the truth of God!

- A James may be killed
- A Peter imprisoned,
  - But the chapter which narrates these incidents of human tyranny does not close without recording that "the Word of God grew and multiplied." (Acts 12:24)

The doors of the church are open.

The Spirit and the Bride
Say “Come”.

Revelation 22:17
